Saved from the Grave.

I am neither an advertising physician nor a doctor of medicines but an ordinary clerk. In the prime of youth I unconsciously fell into evil habits which in a year and a half reduced me to a complete wreck. My friends often enquired from me the cause of my "breakdown", which for very shame I could not apprise them of, but secretly sent for medicine from all the famous physians whose grandiloquent advertisements resounded the newspaper world. To my ill-luck, despair and disappointment stared me in the face wherever I looked until I began to prefer death to life. The wheel of fortune, however, took a new revolution and I was suddenly called upon in July 1901, to undertake, in connection with my employment, a very dreary journey to Nepal which, dotted over with short breaks on the way, took me thirteen days to reach Khatmandoo, where I put up in a caravauserai. Adjoining to my room there had sojourned a day or two previously and aged-looking hermit who enquired from me the nature of my illness in such a loving tone that I was coaxed into a reluctant exposure of my long-hidden treasure of shameful secrets.

Taking pity upon me he scratched out two prescriptions and in accordance with his directions I prepared from herbs and vegetables some tonic pills and other necessary medicines.

GOD TO WITNESS.

Only a week's treatment cured me of all the complaints that had made my life so burdensome that I looked upon suicide as the only avenue of escape from this "living death." Although by virtue of this short treatment I considered myself entirely cured, I was obliged to observe the necessary prevention and to undergo the full course of treatment for 21 days which gave such a vigour to my deranged nervous system that it would smack of immodesty to render the proud effects in black and white. After the completion of my mission there I reached home and experimented the remaining medicine upon some of the hopeless cases and found it an infallible remedy for all sorts of nervine diseases and every kind of general physical debility. On the persistent demands of some of my prudent and philanthropic friends and with a view to public weal I advertised this medicine for those unhappy creatures who had incapacitated themselves for the healthy enjoyment of life. The price advertised hardly covers the expenses of its preparation and advertising operations.

Price 1 Phial of liniment Rs. 2-8 } excluding postal Price 1 box Pills Rs. 1-8 } expenses, i. e., As. 6.

Price 1 full box containing 1 phial of liniment and three boxes of pills.

Rs. 7, including transit expenses.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

One pill to be taken in the morning and one in the evening with fresh water or cow milk. Liniment to be applied once in 24 hours either during the day time or in the night.

The medicine is absolutely free from all Poisonous or Mercurial elements.

This peerless medicine has benefitted thousands of people mentioned in the list of whose names along with others make a voluminous book in itself Some of these men do not allow us to insert their full testimonials and hence we cannot do so but at the same time this is published only with a view to give curreney to this rare medicine.

TESTIMONIALS.

BAWA SARUP SINGH, E.A.C., LAHORE.

Your medicine did much good to the patient. His bodily vigour has also considerably improved. His sorrow-stricken face now beams with glow of treasure. Without doubt your medicine is an elixir.

GHULAM QADIR KHAN, AKOLA. BERAR.

I once sent your pills and liniment and found them extremely beneficial. Send two phials of liniment per V.P.P. for the son of our village headman.

ABDUL AZIZ, MERCHANT. MOUNT ROAD, DARJEELING.

In conformity with your directions the medicine was used for 21 days which has transformed me into a hale and hearty man. If it pleases God would try my best to secure the sale of medicine which deserves appreciation. I thank you thousands of times.

ONE CERTIFICATE WORTH ONE LAC OF RUPEES.

NAWAB SAADAT ALI KHAN, CHIEF OF THE PUNJAB, LAHORE.

A relative of mine had lost his vigour from the last six years. In addition to the various advertised medicines he had made use of many prescriptions of the specific nature but none of these remedies did him any lasting good. At last he resorted to the treatment of Sh. Ghulam Ahmed which brought wonders. The patient completely recovered in two weeks. It is indeed wonderful how such an old disease was eradicated in a couple of weeks' treatment. I accordingly certify that this medicine of magical effect deserves appreciation. It is boon for those who stand in need of it.

SENSATIONAL REVIEW BY THE PRESS.

LE FIGARO.

"To make gold, and find out the secret of everlasting youth: such were the two problems which alchemists had tried to solve. The progress of science has shown the uselessness of the first, but it facilitated, on the other hand, the working out of the second. What are, then, the chief qualities of youth? Strength and health. To remain, in spite of the weight of years, well and robust, is not that eternal youth? Judge, therefore, of the sensation created by Dr. Brown Sequard's famous discovery.

Following out the eminent Professor's theories, a Paris chemist of high standing, with the assistance of eminent practitioners, has prepared the Elixir bearing his name Elixir Godineau the effects of which are surprising."

THE GREAT FRENCH DISCOVERY

ELIXIR GODINEAU

THE WORLD'S GREATEST TONIC

or the ELIXIR OF LIFE made according to the famous discovery of Prof. Brown Sequard, containing the spermatic or ovular cells extracted from the most essential, the most generous and the most vigorous parts of animals, much more powerful and healthy than hitherto employed. It is sweet and very pleasant to take and easily assimilated by the system, without producing any disturbance of the digestive tract. It far surpasses all other preparations as an appetiser and a general Tonic. Verily, ELIXIR GODINEAU is an embodiment of health, vigour and strength.

WHAT DO THE DOCTORS SAY?

"Experiments show that the ovaric, or spermatic cells, which compose the Elixir Godineau produce notable modifications in the whole being very rapidly, almost in a few hours. Through prolific action of the cells an enormous afflux of new anatomical elements is brought into play. Sudden and intense irruptions of new cells appears, not only in one part, but in the whole of the organic system, by means of diffusion of the therapeutic agent. The afflux of embrionate elements being enormous they appear in the lungs, the liver, the muscles, the cellular tissues, and which ever the affected organ may be: battle rages between these new elements and the bacilli, in order that the latter may be absorbed and destroyed, then the morbid tissue is slowly re-absorbed and disappears, the young cells, on the countrary, prosper with wonderful activity, and soon form into new tissues.

No disease or affection exists for which the Elixir Godineau may not be prescribed; in all cases of affections tending to diminish the power of nutrition, diabets, obesity, chronic rheumatism, and even in long protracted convalescence, it has produced marvellous results. The only wish, then, that can be expressed is, that the new remedy should make rapid strides and come into everyday use."

"Returning to scientific considerations, we say that the Elixir Godineau is recommended and prescribed by the French and foreign medical authorities of highest repute: this life specific has never failed and has never disturbed the organic system.

All of these admit having precribed it with success in lympathic cases to women suffering from anæmia, exhausted by hœmorrhage or after laborious confinement, to old enfeebled people, to persons suffering from fevers caught in hot climates, from tropical anæmia, from disease of the spinal marrow, from partial paralysis, and senile softening of the brain." DR. JULES LAFAGE.

Laureate of the Paris Medical University, etc., etc.

"We cannot too highly recommend the use of the Elixir Godineau in treatment against influenza; the only way of escaping from influenza is to remain in a perfect state of health and to offer efficient resistance against this sad affection.

One of the uses, much neglected however, of the Elixir Godineau, and yet one of the most practical is the taking of the Elixir during the weaning period. How difficult it is to gothrough this period without accident is well known, particularly for weak and ickly children. The Elixir Godineau given in doses of from one to two tea-spoonsful a day, facilitates the transition from exclusively liquid to solid food, transition, which ordinarily taking place abruptly, is often most dangerous to children."

"Not only is the Elixir Godineau all powerful against impotency, barrenness, chlorosis, and menstrual disorders, but it also a sovereign cure for consumption, if it does not destroy the bacilli of tuberculosis it increases the individual resistance, arrests the progress of the evil, repairs the breaches effected, for it is an essnetial element of reparation; it supplies in abundance new cells intended to form fresh pulmonary tissue in place of those wasted away by tuberculosis, having become cavernous and honeycomed through diseases

DR. ALBERT. (Journal dela Sante.").

SECRETARY, VAIDYAK SHASTROTTEJAK PRIZE FUND,
GONDAL (Kathiawar.)

J. K. VAIDYA.

All correspondence should be directed to the following address:

(19) It rests with the committee to fix the proportionate amount and number of prizes, if the full amount is not subscribed.

(20) Every buyer gets his Money order receipt through the Post office. He should see that it bears our signature and stamp, separate receipts are not given. A reference to the drawing list will show whether we have received the coupons. Under the not-paid system counter-foils are not likely to go astray or be lost.

(21) If a man whom we have sent a book to sell, transfers it to another for sale and if that third party sends us the money, the original party should get it transferred in our record numbering the numbers of such coupons.

(22) Money orders should be sent in the name of Agents or sellers of tickets, so that the amount may be credited to their account.

(23) Counter-foils received without their value will not partake in the drawing. If there is not enough time for sending a postal M. O., it should be remitted telegraphically.

(24) If stray coupons from a book are sold, a note to that effect should be made on the book to prevent mistake by oversight.

(25) We have known many men disturbing the Indians in matters like these, and in some cases not without reason. We, therefore, want to remove that feeling by our honest dealings and thus divert the money going to the Christian Missions. We invite every Indian to ponder over the fact that the money drawn by Christian Missionaries by means of lotteries are used to the detriment of our country and our religion.

(26) Method of Drawing:—All numbers sold are arranged in serial order and then entered on tablets specially prepared for the purpose; they are also entered in Registers. The tablets and Registered are twice checked. On the day of the Drawing, they are again checked by the Chairman with the help of some of the audience. If any buyer wants to ascertain whether his number has been put in it is at once shown to him. Tablets are then thoroughly mixed up and placed into the drum. Tablets bearing the amounts of prizes are also examined and placed into another drum by the Chairman himself. After the drums are made to revolve on their axes, a child take out one tablet from the number-drum, and another our tablet from the Prize drum. Both are read out and four or five number takers take down the number drawn and the prize announced. Both the tablets are then tied up together and preserved for future reference. When a big prize is drawn, his name is at once found out and declared there and then and the Chairman initials are taken down in the Register and the winner is informed by wire.

(27) As soon as the drawing is over, people get impatient and ask for the list. But they ought to know that the heavy work of compilation takes about 10 days to go through it, we assure them that we shall post the list as soon as it is ready.

(28) The amount of prizes will be remitted to the winners at their cost without undue delay. Winners should note that money is never sent to them through the Agent, and that the latter is not to be paid any commission thereon. Only the Money Order commission and telegraph expenses, if any, are deducted from the amount.

ence between them and the Moderates and Liberals will then be only a matter of degree In fact they seem to have changed their outlook and policy already within the last month or so.

I have come to this conclusion on again reading Prime Minister's speech on the I. C. S. Debate in the Parliament and the apologetic explanation of the Viceroy and lastly the speech of H. E. the Governor of Bombay at the opening of the Bombay Council the other day. One will clearly see that there is much to be said or suspected on the conciliatory attitude of the Governor in reference to the Pro-Council, Party, quite in contrast with the 'threat and warning' of the Premier and the Viceroy. Quite in consonance with the 'threat and warning' of these virtual potentates it was expected that H. E. the Governor would pass on me mandate with compliments to o-Council Party—"the avowed wreck-Reforms" according to Mr. Lele.

e seems to have sounded this party ly and correctly read their intenwhen he exclaimed almost with joy:—
k forward with confidence to the time all sections of political thought who ut on constructive work will seek n to the Councils and thereby en-their value....." I have no fault d with the Governor. But after g this speech I was at once reminded rumour that had come to my ears
a very reliable source a few weeks ago that Mr. N. C. Kelkar had an interview with H. E. the Governor. That rumour seems to have received confirmation from the above speech. Otherwise I do not see any thing else behind the veil of this note of encouragement from the Governor-the Man on the spot, who knows better than the Viceroy and the Premier.

It is not my intention to say that they should not go into the Councils. If they honestly believe that they can do good to the country by so doing, they are welcome. But why they are fluttering about with so much gusto and bravado, I fail to understand, except it be with the intention of creating deadlock in the Congress Camp and wrecking the Congress before they can do anything of the kind in the Councils.

MAHARAJA THAKORE SAHEB OF GONDAL.

VAIDYAK SHASTROTTEJAK PRIZE FUND

of Rs. 2,00,000

out of which

PRIZES WORTH Rs. 1,00,000 WILL BE DISTRIBUTED.

Number of Prizes—20,000.

FIRST PRIZE—Rs. 20,000; SECOND PRIZE Rs. 5,000.

Last chance of trying your luck by purchasing one coupon for One Rupee only.

———:o:———

(1) Out of Rs. 24,537 collected for the first drawing, 2,436 prizes amounting to Rs. 12,295 were distributed. Deducting the commission, postage and office charges, Rs. 3,000 only were left for the Ayurveda Karyalaya. Lists of Numbers have been printed and published. We did not attain the measure of success we expected, owing to the bad name earned by other lotteries and Funds and luck of public faith in them. But the public at large have seen our honest dealing and this has brought us a demand for coupons to the value of Rs. 1,00,000 already.

(2) Out of Rs. 2,00,000 of this Second Drawing, prizes worth Rs. 1,00,000 will be distributed. Rupees 30,000 will go towards the commission charges; Rs. 20,000 will be spent on office, postage and other expenses; and Rs. 50,000 will be paid to the Ayurveda Uddharak Fund. Twenty thousand Prizes will be given away as follows:—

1 Prize of Rs.	20,000	30 Prizes of Rs.	100
1 ,, ,, ,,	5,000	56 ,, ,, ,,	50
1 ,, ,, ,,	2,500	200 ,, ,, ,,	25
8 Prizes ,, ,,	1,000	1,289 ,, ,, ,,	10
8 ,, ,, ,,	500	18,406 ,, ,, ,,	2

This arrangement will secure one prize for every ten coupons.

(3) The aims and objects of the Ayurveda Uddharak Fund are as follows:—

(a) Free distribution of medicine to the poor.
(b) Experiments on Metallurgy.
(c) Foundation of Ayurvedic School.
(d) Permanent Ayurvedic Exhibition.
(e) Publication of Ayurvedic works.
(f) Cow maintenance.

Some of these works have already been undertaken by the Rasashala Aushadha-Ashram. This institution is spending about Rs. 3,000 per year on charitable purposes. To put all the departments on a sound footing, the Vaidya-Mandala have pronounced the necessity of collecting Rs. 5,00,000. If about two hundred thousand rupees could be collected through the Prize Fund, the various departments could be started and further help has been promised by charitably disposed persons. It is the sacred duty of every Aryan to help the cause of Ayurveda and the research work based upon it.

(4) The distribution of prizes will take place at 6 A.M. on 24th October 1922 in the Rasashala garden in the Presence of State Officers, citizens of Gondal and outside agents and subscribers. The board and lodging arrangements for outside guests will be made in the Rasashala bungalow. The date fixed for the drawing will not be changed. The coupons and the money received upto 10 p.m. on 23rd October 1922, will be accepted for the drawing.

(5) Gentlemen, excepting those who are personally known to us and those who have worked satisfactorily for the first drawing, who wish to send for coupon books in a large number, must send half the amount with the order. Retail orders will be executed by V. P. system or on receipt of money in advance. Less than one book (of 11 coupons) will not be sent by V. P. Buyers of fewer coupons should send the amount by a money order, and should write their names and addresses legibly in M. O. coupon. Buyers of one whole book should send us Rs. 10, deducting one rupee as commission or filling up the surplus coupon with their own names.

(6) The sellers of coupons should write the buyer's name and address in Sanskrit, Gujarati or English. It should not be done in any other Language.

(7) The sellers of coupon books and Agents should write their full address on the wrapper of the book so that there may be no mistake in putting down the amount to their credit. Buyers should be given their own coupons and the counter-halves should be sent to the Prize Fund Office by Not-paid Book-Post.

(8) Those who have not got the convenience of a Post office for sending Money orders, should send the amount by Insured Registered Post and the Book by Not-paid Book-Post. To prevent mistakes and facilitate the work, every sender of a M. O. should write his full address and the numbers of coupons sold on the M. O. coupon.

(9) It is our practice to publish a complete list of all the numbers placed in the drawing. Such list will be forwarded to all agents and sellers of whole books and to direct buyers from our office, ten days after the drawing (on 4th November 1922.) Every buyer will thus be enable to ascertain whether his number was put into the drawing. In a case where we have received the money and yet the number has not been put into the drawing, we shall refund the amount at our cost and will further help the buyer, as far as we can, against the agents through whose mistake or roguery he has suffered.

(10) Every buyer gets his Money order receipt through the Post office. He should see that it bears our signature and stamp, separate receipts are not given. A reference to the drawing list will show whether we have received the coupons. Under the not-paid system counter-foils are not likely to go astray or be lost.

(11) If a man whom we have sent a book to sell, transfers it to another for sale and if that third party sends us the money, the original party should get it transferred in our record numbering the numbers of such coupons.

(12) Money orders should be sent in the name of Agents or sellers of tickets, so that the amount may be credited to their account.

(13) Counter-foils received without their value will not partake in the drawing. If there is not enough time for sending a postal M. O., it should be remitted telegraphically.

(14) If stray coupons from a book are sold, a note to that effect should be made on the book to prevent mistake by oversight.

(15) We have known many men distrusting the Indians in matters like these, and in some cases not without reason. We, therefore, want to remove that feeling by our honest dealings and thus divert the money going to the Christion Missions. We invite every Indian to ponder over the fact that the money drawn by Christian Missionaries by means of lotteries are used to the detriment of our country and our religion.

(16) Method of Drawing:—All numbers sold are arranged in serial order and then entered on tablets specially prepared for the purpose; they are also entered in Registers. The tablets and Registered are twice checked. On the day of the Drawing, they are again checked by the Chairman with the help of some of the audience. If any buyer wants to ascertain whether his number has been put in it is at once shown to him. Tablets are then thoroughly mixed up and placed into the drum. Tablets bearing the amounts of prizes are also examined and placed into another drum by the Chairman himself. After the drums are made to revolve on their axes, a child take out one tablet from the number-drum, and another our tablet from the Prize drum. Both are read out and four or five number takers take down the number drawn and the prize announced. Both the tablets are then tied up together and preserved for future reference. When a big prize is drawn, his name is at once found out and declared there and then and the Chairman initials are taken down in the Register and the winner is informed by wire.

(17) As soon as the drawing is over, people get impatient and ask for the list. But they ought to know that the heavy work of compliation takes about 10 days to go through it, we assure them that we shall post the list as soon as it is ready.

(18) The amount of prizes will be remitted to the winners at their cost without undue delay. Winners should note that money is never sent to them through the Agent, and that the latter is not to be paid any commission thereon. Only the Money Order commission and telegraph expenses, if any, are deducted from the amount.

(19) It rests with the committee to fix the proportionate amount and number of prizes, if the full amount is not subscribed.

SENSATIONAL REVIEW BY THE PRESS.

LE FIGARO.

"To make gold, and find out the secret of everlasting youth: such were the two problems which alchemists had tried to solve. The progress of science has shown the uselessness of the first, but it facilitated, on the other hand, the working out of the second. What are, then, the chief qualities of youth? Strength and health. To remain, in spite of the weight of years, well and robust, is not that eternal youth? Judge, therefore, of the sensation created by Dr. Brown Sequard's famous discovery.

Following out the eminent Professor's theories, a Paris chemist of high standing, with the assistance of eminent practitioners, has prepared the Elixir bearing his name Elixir Godineau the effects of which are surprising."

LE TEMPS.

"The Elixir Godineau is now constantly talked of by the press, it is the constant subject of their articles and the talk of town and country; it is a first class, strengthening and restoring tonic of miraculous power."

L'ECHO DE PARIS.

"The great success of the Elixir Godineau increased from day to day and is fully justified. This powerful specific restores health and vigour every day to numberless invalids whose cure was despaired of."

L'EVENEMENT.

"The fairy tale of the fountain of youth is now a true and real fact; old age still scatters a few wrinkles on the face, a few snowy flakes in the hair, but it can no longer chill the hearts of men to whom the high-mettled spiritness of a youth of twenty years age is restored by the Elixir Godineau, one of the valuable conquests of men of modern science. The effects of this marvellous philtre are not limited to this; chlorosis, anæmia, paralysis, etc., disappear as by enchantment through using this Elixir, and cures in great numbers are an everyday occurence."

LA FRANCE MODERNE.

"Medical science makes every day new and important progress. After the cure, of man, his regeneration has now been discovered. The fountain of youth is no longer a fable, thanks to the Elixir Godineau. Life is given a stronger basis, is prolonged. Youth is restored and lasts much longer, for, it is a fact, that, cheerfulness and beauty, those two seductive qualities, are the result of bodily strength and perfect working of the whole organic system. Is it not marvellous that a chemist, from the depths of his laboratory, should thus offer to the world long life, long youth and long cheerpiess?"

THE GREAT FRENCH DISCOVERY

ELIXIR GODINEAU

or the ELIXIR OF LIFE made according to the famous discovery of Prof. Brown Sequard, containing the spermatic or ovular cells extracted from the most essential, the most generous and the most vigorous parts of animals, much more powerful and healthy than hitherto employed. It is sweet and very pleasant to take and easily assimilated by the system, without producing any disturbance of the digestive tract. It far surpasses all other preparations as an appetiser and a general Tonic. Verily, ELIXIR GODINEAU is an embodiment of health, vigour and strength.

Diseases in which Elixir Godineau has been found of immense value:

Abscess (scrofulous), Affections of the Heart, Brain, Nerves or of the Respiratory Organs, Albuminaria, Amenorrhœa, Blenorrhœa, Dysminorrhœa, Spermathorrœa, Vomiting (in pregnancy), Hœmorrhage (uterine or of the brain, teeth or lungs), Anœmia, Debility, Excesses of all kinds, Chloroses. Insanity, Loss of Memory, Fatigue in Maternity, Overwork, Exhaustion, Langour, Cangrene, Newrosis of the Heart or Brain, Nervousness, Paralysis, general or facial, Sleeplessness, Headache, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Consumption, Tuberculosis, Diabetes, Cramp, Barrenness, Impotence, Consequences of Measles, Asthma, Cancer, Convalesence after pleurisy or attacks of Influenza, Malaria, etc.

WHAT DO THE DOCTORS SAY?

"Experiments show that the ovaric, or spermatic cells, which compose the Elixir Godineau produce notable modifications in the whole being very rapidly, almost in a few hours. Through prolific action of the cells an enormous afflux of new anatomical elements is brought into play. Sudden and intense irruptions of new cells appears, not only in one part, but in the whole of the organic system, by means of diffusion of the therapeutic agent. The afflux of embrionate elements being enormous they appear in the lungs, the liver, the muscles, the cellular tissues, and which ever the affected organ may be: battle rages between these new elements and the bacilli, in order that the latter may be absorbed and destroyed, then the morbid tissue is slowly re-absorbed and disappears, the young cells, on the countrary, prosper with wonderful activity, and soon form into new tissues.

No disease or affection exists for which the Elixir Godineau may not be prescribed; in all cases of affections tending to diminish the power of nutrition, diabets, obesity, chronic rheumatism, and even in long protracted convalescence, it has produced marvellous results. The only wish, then, that can be expressed is, that the new remedy should make rapid strides and come into everyday use."

"Returning to scientific considerations, we say that the Elixir Godineau is recommended and prescribed by the French and foreign medical authorities of highest repute: this life specific has never failed and has never disturbed the organic system.

All of these admit having precribed it with success in lympathic cases to women suffering from anæmia, exhausted by hœmorrhage or after laborious confinement, to old enfeebled people, to persons suffering from fevers caught in hot climates, from tropical anæmia, from disease of the spinal marrow, from partial paralysis, and senile softening of the brain." DR. JULES LAFAGE.

Laureate of the Paris Medical University, etc., etc.

"We cannot too highly recommend the use of the Elixir Godineau in treatment against influenza; the only way of escaping from influenza is to remain in a perfect state of health and to offer efficient resistance against this sad affection.

One of the uses, much neglected however, of the Elixir Godineau, and yet one of the most practical is the taking of the Elixir during the weaning period. How difficult it is to gothrough this period without accident is well known, particularly for weak and ickly children. The Elixir Godineau given in doses of from one to two tea-spoonsful a day, facilitates the transition from exclusively liquid to solid food, transition, which ordinarily taking place abruptly, is often most dangerous to children."

"Not only is the Elixir Godineau all powerful against impotency, barrenness, chlorosis, and meastrual disorders, but it is also a sovereign cure for consumption, if it does not destroy the bacilli of tuberculosis it increases the individual resistance, arrests the progress of the evil, repairs the breaches effected, for it is an essnetial element of reparation; it supplies in abundance new cells intended to form fresh pulmonary tissue in place of those wasted away by tuberculosis, having become cavernous and honeycomed through diseases

DR. ALBERT. (Journal dela Sante.").

THE PRO-COUNCIL PARTY.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—On reading Mr. Lele's letter in today's "Chronicle," as well as his other letters commenting on the doings of the Pro-Council Party that appeared in your paper, I am ready to concede that Mr. Lele is in close touch with all the moving poitical events in the country. He is a well-meaning critic. But to me he seems to be a superficial observer of men and their actions. In the speeches and tactics of this Pro-Council Party, he reads nothing but an honest endeavour on the part of these seceders from the N. C. O. Congress to bring about Swarajya nearer and earlier than the N. C. O. party. I do not know what he has got to say in regard to the illegal and arrogant conduct on the part of the hero of the Pro-Council Party, Mr. N. C. Kelkar, in the P. C. C's meeting held in Poona the other day to consider the resignations of some office-bearers and the election of the President of the said Committee. At any rate at the present moment the view held by Mr. Lele, perhaps in the good company of some other publicists in Bombay and Poona, seems to be that this Pro-Council Party is actuated, in their struggles to go into the Reformed Councils, with, as they avow, the honest desire to create deadlocks and thus prove the futility of the Reform Toy. Mr. Lele knows or ought not to forget that this Pro-Council Party consists of men who are mere opportunists. Even in the hay-day of the N. C. O. movement they were merely sitting on the fence and playing a double game, to avoid the inevitable self-extinction to themselves and their party. And, when they go into the Councils it will be surely found by those who know some thing about these people and the deep policy of this Goovernment that, far from creating deadlocks and wrecking the Reforms, they will simply play with them by means of their Responsive Co-operation a catchword learnt from the late Lok. Tilak who only knew how to use that weapon—which is in the case of these pliant people another word for 'Compromise'. The difference between them and the Moderates and Liberals will then be only a matter of degree In fact they seem to have changed their outlook and policy already within the last month or so.

I have come to this conclusion on again reading Prime Minister's speech on the I. C. S. Debate in the Parliament and the apologetic explanation of the Viceroy and lastly the speech of H. E. the Governor of Bombay at the opening of the Bombay Council the other day. One will clearly see that there is much to be said or suspected on the conciliatory attitude of the Governor in reference to the Pro-Council, Party, quite in contrast with the 'threat and warning' of the Premier and the Viceroy. Quite in consonance with the 'threat and warning' of these virtual potentates it was expected that H. E. the Governor would pass on the same mandate with compliments to the Pro-Council Party—"the avowed wreckers of Reforms" according to Mr. Lele. But he seems to have sounded this party properly and correctly read their intentions when he exclaimed almost with joy:—"I look forward with confidence to the time when all sections of political thought who are bent on constructive work will seek election to the Councils and thereby enhance their value....." I have no fault to find with the Governor. But after reading this speech I was at once reminded of the rumour that had come to my ears from a very reliable source a few weeks ago that Mr. N. C. Kelkar had an interview with H. E. the Governor. That rumour seems to have received confirmation from the above speech. Otherwise I do not see any thing else behind the veil of this note of encouragement from the Governor the Man on the spot, who knows better than the Viceroy and the Premier.

It is not my intention to say that they should not go into the Councils. If they honestly believe that they can do good to the country by so doing, they are welcome. But why they are fluttering about with so much gusto and bravado, I fail to understand, except it be with the intention of creating deadlock in the Congress Camp and wrecking the Congress before they can do anything of the kind in the Councils.

—Yours etc.,

P. B. N.,

MARVELS OF PSYCHIC POWER

I am by nature a suspicious soul and whenever anyone comes across me professing supernatural powers I always view him with distrust and make out for the treachery of the business.

With such a disbelieve I went to Mr. M. A. Mir. On the 1st occasion I found that he could correctly transcribe questions put by me without his ever having any opportunity even to know the sort of questions I was putting to test him.

Whereafter I went to Mr. Mir on several occasions and on every occasion I found that not only could he correctly tell you your questions, but the answer would come written on your own question-paper in some mysterious way. In this last-mentioned example of Mr. Mir's power I can say this much only that neither Mr. Mir no anyone else had any opportunity to handle the question-paper and the answers on so many as 17 questions were answered in this way in less than a minute's time.

Such powers make one think indeed and to explain in the words of the immortal author "there are many things in heaven and earth that are not dreamt of in your philosophy."

Mr. Mir must be congratulated upon his wonderful power. I only hope this power will be used by him for the good of humanity and that too for a good long time to come.

Dear Sir,

I have had the occasion to consult Mr. MIR during the illness of my relation. The prediction has turned out, word by word, true. Not only this, but Mr. MIR told me that my relative cannot get cured and will die on such and such date. It came out true. My relative died on the same date. This prophecy was made fifteen days before her death. I have great faith in this science he has acquired. I honestly recommend others to try in the case of emergency. I have my questions prepared at home, and I had kept them folded with me. They were read out by Mr. MIR, word for word correct. When I opened, every question was found in writing itself. It is marvellous as well as mysterious.

P. M. BOCTOR,
Girgaon,
BOMBAY.

The "Bombay Chronicle" of 10th and 23rd April and 7th May last, and also vernacular papers have spoken in eulogistic terms of Mr. MIR'S psychic power.

If you are suffering from any kind of disease, if you are tired of life, if your life is a burden to you and others, if you are suffering from halluciration of a gloomy future.

You should lose no time in paying a visit to Mr. MIR, the great psychic whose wonderful reading of past and future incidents, is the topic not only of Bombay but of the principal cities of India.

PATIENTS AND OTHERS, please consult, or write to, Mr. MIR at the MIR PHARMACY, Kshetria Dyanti Nivas, Girgaon, Charni Road, Bombay.

BOMBAY MARKETS.

COTTON.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

29th Sept. 1922.

To-day a further drop of 9 points was reported in New York futures. The Ameriran market declined an disturbed political news and on Straddle and Hedge selling Messrs. Umrigar and Vesugar's Ney York friends, Messrs. A. Narden & Co., cable under date 28th as under:—

"Our crop condition 52 per cent. Late frost would not benefit materially. Producers and speculators selling freely. We think 20 cents reasonable and prefer to buy at decline."

In our market prices for New crops have declined heavily owing to heavy selling by Japan Houses, the unfavourable political situation and doubts as to whether the September Oorma Bull party will be able to weigh over all the cotton tendered. For the immediate future we cannot give any decided opinion but think that purchases of new crops at present prices would prove profitable in the long run.

The Marwari Bazar opened this morning for F. G. Mg. Broach, April/ May at Rs. 404/ and steadily advanced to Rs. 417/- on heavy buying by Japan Houses and offices, and cutcha Candy brokers. From this level the prices dropped to Rs. 412/- on profit—taking. The prices fluctuated within a range of five rupees and the rate at 4 p.m. ruled Rs. 409/-. The Bazar finally closed at Rs. 410/-. At Colaba he market opened at Rs. 403/- and closed at Rs. 416½. F. Mg., Oomra December/ January opened at Rs. 349/- and steadily went up till Rs. 362/- on free buying by offices. After sharp fluctuations the price at 4 p.m. was Rs. 355/- F. G. Mg. Bengal December/January was Rs. 295/- nominal.

Our market for ready cotton continued to remain dull yesterday.

Our market is closed to-morrow owing to Dussera Holiday.

PIECE GOODS.

The tone of the Cloth Market has been quiter during the past week. The demand has been restricted and the buying has not been sufficient to check the fall in values. In a falling market buyers usually adopt a waiting policy being nervous as to a possibility of further depreciation. The anxiety of sellers to get rid of their stocks has resulted in forced sales being made and a depression has set in, the more so, as cheaper lots from other markets have found their way here. The constant preaching of boycott of foreign cloth has had its effect in as much as dealers in up-country are afraid to buy lest the goods may be left unsold on their shoulders. Until the political outlook improves and the market settles down, there is little hope of increased trade. The merchants are now looking forward to Divali for an improved demand, but rupee rates will have to be cheaper to induce free buying.

Even the support of the Manchester Market has not helped the merchants to keep up the rates. Some makers of Jaconets and Dhotties have engagements running up to December next and in certain kinds of White Goods January Shipment time is required owing to business having been booked some time back for Calcutta and Karachi. It is reported that some well-known importing firms have bought their standard cloths for forward delivery on their own account just to keep the cloths going. On the other hand, there are some manufacturers in Burnley who are short of work and looms will have to be stopped, as the inquiry has been at impracticable rates Horrockses have announced a reduction in prices ranging from 2½ to 5 per cent., in spite of the uncertainty as regards the supply of raw cotton. It is interesting to note that Mr. Kenneth Lee, presiding at the annual meeting of Tootal Broadhurst Lee & Co., stated that orders totalling £1,500,000 more than last year have been booked. The curtailment of production by closing the mills at four o'clock on Saturdays and Mondays for a month has been decided upon by the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners in Manchester as the vote in favour of short time of mills spinning American Cotton has now increased to over eighty per cent., and the curtailment will be compulsory on all members of the Federation. It is gradually being realised in Manchester that a slow, progressive decline in the Indian demand for foreign textiles will be inevitable, in spite of India being unable to supplant Lancashire in the finer products for a long time to come, as can be seen from the comments of the "Manchester Guardian" with regard to the Fiscal Commission's report and its effect on the Lancashire Cotton Trade. The "Guardian" asserts that protection in India is largely a reflection of political discontent and can be cured by political remedies, the chief of which is that Britain should show no sign of faltering in the resolution that India should govern herself to the limits of her own capacity.

In Grey Shirtings of Manchester make buying has been within a small compass, and the tendency seems to be downwards in sympathy with the decline in local mill and Japanese cloths. In Grey Drills there has been no improvement owing to cheaper goods being thrown into the market. In Grey Jaconets it is reported that a big lot has recently been bought, for forward delivery from November onwards, at about Rs. 8 per piece by a new dealer who usually trades in local mill cloths and the combine of dealers, who usually buy this standard cloth, have entered into competition with this new dealer and cut down the rates considerably. In White Mulls, Nainsooks and Shirtings there is hardly anything fresh to report, and values have been nominally steady, there being no testing of rates in the absence of business.

Local Mill Clothis have been easier owing to business being quiet. The cheaper sales of stocks made by a mill have so far not induced free buying at the lower rates in the bazaar.

The Cloth Markets will be closed on Thursday next owing to a Hindu holiday.

YARN MARKET REPORT.

29th September.

During the week under review our market has further depressed in all kinds of yarns and demand has been very slack throughout. As a rule buyers prefer to wait and see so long as the things are settled down and are not inclined to operate when prices are sagging almost daily. Such a disorganised state of the market makes the holders more or less nervous some of whom try to dispose off their stocks at buyer's price. The news of continuous weakness are sufficient to prevent the consuming centres from coming out as buyers and although most of them are bare of goods, inquiries received are at much lower rates, and hardly result into business. Spot clearances are few and not at all encouraging.

English yarns find buyers only at a specially reduced rates. Mills buy very sparingly owing to large reduction in rates of cloth and absence of demand. Forward business with Manchester is almost nil owing to comparatively much higher quotations and strong Japanese competition. Japanese importers have been selling heavily and have practically sold about five thousand bales of grey yarn during these two weeks. The last business reported is at Rs. 350 for 20s. Rs. 450 for 30s. Rs. 475 for 32s., Rs. 530 for 40s. and Rs. 570 for 42/2 grey yarn. These Japanese sales have solely engaged the attention of merchants and consumers alike in these days and none can definitely opine how far Japan will continue to pour down her yarns.

Indian mills report no large sales and although stocks are now increasing, they cannot find buyers except at large reductions. The Japanese axe is hanging over their heads and sooner or later reduction shall have to be effected especially in 20s. and further counts. In coarser counts also, prices have to be reduced to some extent so as to encourage demand locally as well as from China and the earlier this is done the better.

The downwards course is still in evidence and things cannot be settled unless further cut in prices is effected. The situation requires prompt response from the Indian mills who will be lagged behind if sven now they do not rise to the occasion.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

During the week under review Home markets were fluctuating but on the whole show a moderate decline both in Liverpool and New York. In the early part of the week the American markets advanced on reports of good business of yarn and cloths by the American mills and improved trade demand in south as also considerable buying on news of favourable political situation. Since then the market declined continually on long liquidation and selling by New Orleans and Wall st. The undertone of the American markets is steady as crop deterioration continues. The U. S. A. mills anticipating that the crop outturn will only be round about to million bales are buying freely.

The political situation has still influence over the American markets and with some favourable developments in the former we think the market is likely to improve. Messrs. Umrigar and Vesugars New York friends Messrs. A. Norden & Co. cable under date 28th as under:—

"Our crop condition 52 per cent. Late frost would not benefit materially. Producers and speculators are selling freely. We think 20 cents reasonable and prefer to buy at decline."

Although the future of the American markets will depend largely on political situation we are inclined to believe that the market will react in the near future after the recent heavy decline, and would recommend buying at present level.

The prices in new crops in our market have considerably declined since the last four days owing to continued heavy selling by Japanese Houses. The demand for ready cotton has fallen off, Japan shippers and European exporters were out of the market. Local spinners were buying sparingly.

The following were the changes in the Home markets as compared with a week ago:

Liverpool October last week 12.35; this week 11.95—40

Liverpool January last week 12.04; this week 11.71—88

Liverpool March last week 11.93; this week 11.62—81

New York October last week 20.80; this week 20.31—49

New York January last week 20.88; this week 20.41—47

New York March last week 20.82; this week 20.47—35

From this level it dropped to Rs. 404 on the 23rd instant on selling by Japanese Houses and an Indore operator. The prices again touching Rs. 406 steadily declined till Rs. 3,971 on the 25th instant owing to continued selling by Japanese Houses. Again going up to Rs. 409 the prices continuously declined to Rs. 357 on the 28th instant in sympathy with the steady decline in American markets and free selling by offices and Japanese Houses, and after sharp fluctuations closed on 29th instant at Rs. 346½. CORONER'S COURT.

DEATH DUE TO ASPHYXIA.

The jury returned a verdict that the deaths were caused by asphyxia due to inhalation of irrespirable gas and burns resulting from the ignition of gas from pipes which escaped whilst they were engaged in dismantling the pipes. The jury added a rider that no precautions appeared to have been taken to clear the pipes of gas when the vessel was made over to the Agent of the Burma Government, or even after the escape of the gas from a pipe in the first hold when the dismantling first commenced.

BOMBAY POLICE COURT.

MR. PEERBHOY'S CASE.

Further hearing of the case of assault on Mr. E. A Peerbhoy was resumed at the Esplanade Police Court, before Rao Bahadur C. H. Stalvad, Acting Chief Presidency Magistrate.

Mr. Harry Kay (recalled) in reply to the Court said he could not definitely say what sort of sticks were used in the assault.

Inderji Kanji, a clerk in the employ of Sir Adamji Peerbhoy & Sons, in the course of his examination, said he remembered the faces of five or six assailants. Witness identified accused Nos. 2 and 3 as being the assailants. It was accused No. 2 who said. "It was the order of the Sayed, take out the knife and kill him." He (accused No. 2) was also assaulting his master with an umbrella while he was standing as well as while he was lying down. Accused No. 3 had a whip-like stick with which he was assaulting the complainant. It was the knuckle-duster and the stick (shown to him in the Court) with which accused Nos. 1 and 2 were assaulting his master. Witness had seen similar three sticks, in the hands of accused Nos. 1 and 2, while the third one was in the hand of another Bohra not present in Court. He, then corroborated the previous witnesses and said that at the office of the Commissioner of Police, his master told him to go and search for the ruby which he had lost at the spot; so witness went to the spot, but he did not find the ruby.

Dr. David Judah, medical practitioner said he had made a special study of X-Ray. He remembered Mr. Ebrahim Adamji coming to his surgery with Dr. Baccha; he X-rayed his left shoulder blade. Witness had taken a photograph of the blade. As far as witness knew his report was correct. It was a simple fracture which could have been caused by a severe blow, or a loaded-stick. He did not think the fracture would have been caused by the knuckle-duster, unless it was a pretty hard blow.

Inderji Kanji, cross-examined by Mr. Neriman said he had very often accompanied Mr. Ebrahimji to the Solicitors' Office. He had been accompanying his master to the Solicitors' Office for the last five or six years. Mostly Mr. Ebrahimji went to the solicitors' Office. During the last five or seven years such an assault on the complainant was committed for the first time only. Among the three Bohras that came from behind, accused No. 1 had a knucle-duster in his right hand and the whip-stick, in his left, but he could not say what sort of sticks accused Nos. 2 and 3 had at the time. Accused No. 1 was assaulting the complainant with the stick with both hands. Witness picked up the stick which was lying near his master. He had not seen the Parsi before. The Parsi had simply told witness that he had arrested accused No. 1. Witness saw the accused on the day of assault and in the Court he identified them.

The case was, then, adjourned till Tuesday next.

"TAJ" EJICTMENT CASE.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Rao Bahadur Chunilal Setalvad, Acting Chief Presidency Magistrate, V. A. Fernandez, a striker belonging to the Indian Hotels Company, Ltd., was charged with criminal trespass.

Mr. K. F. Nariman pleader, appeared for the accused; while Mr. N. N. Saher, Barrister-at-Law, appeared for the Hotels Company.

On the case being called out, the Magistrate said he wanted to make groups of cases against the strikers who were charged. Those who were in the Green's Hotel would remain in one group; while those who occupied one building would be grouped in another.

Mr. Nariman said he did want to take up the time of the Court. If it was decided by the High Court that it was a criminal trespass then they would have to vacate. So it all depended upon the decision of the High Court.

Magistrate:—I will take one group of cases, and then will give my judgment.

Mr. Nariman (interrupting His Worship): That will be a waste of time.

Mr. Saher:—That means that you want to stay in the building for a very long time.

Mr. Nariman:—Not at all, that is not our object.

His Worship adjourned the case till the 4th of October remarking that he would go on with it from day to day.

PUBLIC MEETING AT PAREL.

A fuller report will appear in our next issue.

To confound his enemies Marcon announces that the stone is stolen. Mary, the secretary to the diamond merchant, creeps into the room where George Grange a friend of the merchant's is sleeping, with a dagger in her hand. She is really a spy for Fu, the prince. What is she going to do?

WEST-END CINEMA—Laughs come thick and fast in "Sis Hopkins", Mabel Normand's new Goldwyn Picture, which comes to the West-End Cinema this week. It is not to be wondered at with two such comic creatures as the star and the gawky Rosetta, called Sis for short, made into one. The screen version of the play that brought Rose Melville fame and made millions of theatregoers laugh is certain to score even greater success than was achieved by the Rose Melville vehicle in its stage form.

There is a touch of histrionic genius in Mabel Norman's portrayal of "Sis Hopkins," and this, together with an absorbing story, dramatic and convulsively funny by turns, causes Goldwyn to predict a success which will sweep the nation. Mabel Normand will justify every belief in her right to occupy a place in her profession—and in the hearts of her admirers—that she has never held before.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

"PERSISTENT RUMOUR" AND AN EXPLANATION.

(Associated Press.)

SIMLA, Sept. 28.

Mr. Ginwalla, the Chief Whip of the Democratic Party in the Legislative Assembly, has issued the following statement to the Press:—"There has recently been a persistent rumour that the Democratic Party, which did so much useful work, has manifested indications of breaking up. There is no foundation for this rumour except, perhaps, the fact that a small section of the party have, for reasons which are not quite clear, expressed their intention to sever their connection with it. On the other hand, some new members have joined the Party, making at present a total of forty.

The Working Committee of the party have decided to recommend to the party that its creed be so altered that no provincial, communal, or sectarian question, shall be taken up as a party matter. Considering that the Legislative Assembly is an All-India Assembly, in which national interests ought to have predominance, this recommendation is in the right direction and will place the party on a more solid foundation. The Government at present, as a party, is well organised as the division lists have recently shown; and if the Democratic Party is to serve any useful purpose, it is necessary that it should be equally well organised and that personal and other considerations, which may sometimes militate against its well-being, should be submerged in the interest of the national cause. The members of the party have now generally realised the importance of this point; and I am sanguine that when we meet again there will be no room whatsoever for any misgiving as to its strength or position."

MR. BAPTISTA AND THE "TIMES OF INDIA."

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Once, Mr. Joseph Baptista had written to "The Chronicle" announcing his intention to boycott the "Times of India" for, I think, the journal's unsavory criticism of Lok. Tilak after his death. To-day I see Mr. Baptista figuring in the correspondence columns of the Bori Bunder journal. Has Mr. Baptista at last got over his feeling of resentment against the "Times of India"? Will Mr. Baptista in his inimitable humour explain the cause of the phenomenon?—Yours, etc.,

IN JUSTICE!

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—I have read your leaderette under this head-line. I do admire your sense of justice in giving full publicity to Sir George Lloyd's fine feelings for the Turkish nation and to his solicitude for their welfare. I further note that, in your opinion, Sir George Lloyd had much to do with the cablegram sent by Lord Reading and published by Mr. Montagu in respect of the Turkish Treaty. But, with due deference, I say, that I cannot reconcile this love and affection, this regard and solicitude of Sir George Lloyd for the Turkish Nation and its Liberation with the policy, that his Government has pursued in arresting and imprisoning the greatest Champions of Islam and of Turkey, I mean Mahatma Gandhi and the brave Ali brothers! That love and regard of Sir George Lloyd becomes academic and ineffective, when his Government removes from the scene such stalwart friends of Turkey and Khilafat as the great Gandhiji and the Ali-brothers! We know, that the Viceroy has so far sent the cable. He has not supported the Secretary of State publicly: nor has he resigned his post to vindicate the Moslem cause! His Government is called the Subordinate Department of the Imperial Government! That has been the value set on the cable sent by the Viceroy, and supported by the Governor of Bombay particularly! Had Gandhiji been free, had Shaukat Ali and Mahamed Ali been free to-day, they would have so strengthened the hands of the Provincial and Central Government with the thundering voice and demand of a United India, as to have forced the hands of capricious Curzon to deal justly with Turkey. But, Sir George Lloyd evidently thinks otherwise. He has a novel method of expressing his affection and solicitude for the Turkish nation, and that is by incarcerating the best friends of that nation!—Yours, etc.,

INDIAN CO-OPERATIVE S. N. CO. LTD.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—So the annual general meeting, original and adjourned, was held in the presence of the Police, and the Annual Report was rushed through, despite solid opposition, in the presence of European Police Officers:—This fact is recorded in the papers. May I say, sir,—

(1) That the Resolutions were not audible even on the small platform!

(2) That neither the writer nor the Auditor, who were quite close to the movers, could hear anything!

(3) That the auditor cannot vouchsafe that even he could hear his separate report being read to the shareholders!

4 that when the writer asked for copies of the resolutions, that were being moved and said to be passed, he was directly refused!

(5) That when the writer remonstrated, that Sir Goculdas was acting high-handedly in the presence of the Police, there was no explanation forthcoming!

(6) That when a shareholder presented application for a poll on all the Resolutions said to have been passed, the application was torn off in the sight of the Police Officer!

(7) That when the writer entered the Shamiana he asked Sir Goculdas why separate compartments were made? And he was told, that was meant to facilitate the counting of votes. And yet, strange to say, there was no counting of votes, when the actual Resolutions were rushed through, and were said to be passed! Can Mr. Goculdas refute these statements?—Yours, etc.,

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE

Saturday, September 30, 1922.

INDIA AND TURKEY.

The other day we published the text of a resolution passed by the Bombay Provincial Congress Committee congratulating Ghazi Mustafa Kemal Pasha. Another resolution, which has been cabled to the President, French Republic, Monsieur Poincare, French Premier and Foreign Minister, the Editor, Le Temps, Paris, and Lord Hardinge, British Embassy, Paris, reads:

"Bombay Provincial Committee of Indian National Congress offers hearty congratulations to French Government and people for generous support given to the cause of Turkish Nationalists which is the cause of all Asia at this moment. Vive la France."

A similar but more comprehensively worded message has been sent to France—and Italy—by Seth Chotani, President Central Khilafat Committee of India. The Indian National Congress, [illegible] session at Ahmedabad, last December, passed a resolution congratulating Mustafa Kemal on his success, and resolutions have been adopted by the Congress defining its attitude in regard to India's Foreign Policy. These constitute a striking departure from the placid history of the Congress until a few years ago, when the Congress was content to let the world alone, and remained engrossed with the minor problems of bread and cheese at home. That India should look forward, in times to come, to a larger life—to the life of internationalism—is inevitable. The interest taken by the Congress and other national organizations in the country in the affairs of foreign countries is a healthy sign of the vitality that is impelling the body politic of India to action, and as time goes by, that interest will not only grow in volume but will assume a more concrete shape. Till recent times such interest was treated by the bureaucracy as high treason. But those times are past.

It has been felt all over India to-day that, in matters of domestic or foreign policy, the subordinate branch of the British Government is incapable of publicly reflecting the Indian viewpoint and the time has come for Indians to express their views independently of the Government. The Turkish successes have afforded the country an opportunity of expressing their feelings towards the gallant Kemalists, who have successfully borne aloft the Standard of Islam—and with it of Asiatic Unity and Civilization. This is a matter, on which Indians feel little in common with the Government of India, and the British Government too has convincingly demonstrated the truth by refraining from calling upon its subordinate branch to come to its aid for defending the Straits. It has been proved again and again that in matters affecting international relations, there is little common ground between the people of India and the Government. Unless and until that Government becomes a truly national government, the people have to rely more and more on themselves and express their sentiments independently of the Government.—and thus save the agents of British Imperialism the trouble of undertaking—to them—an unpleasant task.

We welcome the action of the Bombay Provincial Congress, and the Central Khilafat Committees for the reason that it marks a definite and timely recognition of the fact that Asia is one and united, and that the destiny of India will have ultimately to be achieved in harmony with the destiny of Asia as a whole. Sooner or later, there will have to be a federation of the East, and in standing by the Turks, and in acknowledging the support given them by France and Italy, the Congress and the Khilafat organizations have demonstrated that at last the great consciousness has taken hold of them. It is an excellent result, and India ought to feel grateful to Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Curzon for hastening that consciousness by their avowedly anti-Turkish policy.

UNHAPPY EGYPT.

Like India, Egypt also is groaning under the newly-bestowed "liberty." There are more imprisonments and more repression than ever before. Martial law, the removal of which was promised, is now, on the contrary, extended. Only a few weeks ago Reuter informed us that some disloyal seditionists—not disloyal to their own country,—were sentenced to death for condemning the policy of Sarwat Pasha's Cabinet in a manifesto to the public. These seven men were the devoted followers of Zaghloul, who is now interned, and are distinguished in their own way—some of them are leaders of the bar, one is a Bedouin Chief and another a son of a former Premier. The trial and punishment of these leaders of Egyptian nationalism bring into relief the nakedness of the tyranny in the guise of "independence" under which the Egyptian people now suffer. Mr. L. A. Fanous, writing in "The Nation and the Athenaeum" makes clear the farcical nature of the trial which is known as "the manifesto case'. In this case these seven members of Zaghloul's Committee were tried by a military court for publishing a manifesto condemning the policy and conduct of Sarwat Pasha's Cabinet. Their action was described on the charge sheet as constituting an offence against Section 151 of the Egyptian Penal Code and a breach of the orders of the British Commander-in-Chief. "But as the object of the trial", Mr. Fanous says, "was not really the mere punishment of the accused for this alleged offence, which could have been done by the Egyptian Civil Courts, but the intimidation of the political opposition to the Sarwat Cabinet in general, the accused were brought before a British Military Court, which, after refusing Counsel for defence an adjournment for two days to enable him to prepare his defence, condemned the accused, who were thus left undefended, to death, for an offence to which Egyptian law assigns, as maximum penalty, two years' imprisonment or a fine of £100 (Mr. Fanous' italics)." The original sentence of death was subsequently commuted to seven years' penal servitude and £5,000 fine each. But apart from the savage character of the sentence, what is most astounding is the claim put up by the prosecution, and accepted by the Court, that they were not a Court at all, bound by any law but "a detail of officers" appointed by the General for the purpose of trying the accused, "who are charged, not with committing an offence against Egyptian or against English law, but with disobeying the command of the Commander-in-Chief", and were to advise him how to deal with an infraction of his Commands." The Court being a Military Court, of course, accepted the claim by advising the Commander-in-Chief to put to death seven Egyptian political leaders and the Commander-in-Chief in the plenitude of his mercy commuted their sentence to seven years' penal servitude and £5000 fine each!

But this case does not stand alone. According to the testimony of Mr. Fanous "wholesale political repression, perquisition of houses by day and by night, wholesale arrests for the mere suspicion of active hostility to the Cabinet of the day, trials and severe sentences by British military courts for purely political offences, real or alleged, public lawlessness and insecurity throughout the country, and drastic limitations on the liberty of the Press, public speech, or any other form of political self-expression, are the order of the day, which is enforced by British bayonets." Naturally, Mr. Fanous says "the result of this gross misapplication of the theoretically liberal policy of His Majesty's Government is that the country has become such a seething mass of discontent that wholesale repression is now considered the sole means of keeping in the saddle this unpopular Premier. Martial law has, therefore, been not only revived, contrary to the formal declaration to the King of Egypt of February last, but extended to unheard-of lengths both in the scope of its jurisdiction and severity of its penalties." Thus is the "charter" of Egyptian Independence put into practice. Since the war began Egypt has been under martial law and of the sufferings of her people the world at large does not know and will not know. Egypt is one of those countries who have suffered from the blight of British Liberalism. It was the Liberals under Gladstone who annexed the country for all practical purposes, after the bombardment of Alexandria; then came the Denshawi affair when a number of Egyptians were hanged; and now she is under Mr. Lloyd George. That is the way the world has been made safe for democracy—by ruling Egypt with martial law for more than eight years. The British Government, which is now shedding crocodile tears over the fate of Armenians and Greeks in the Asia Minor, might keep them for Egyptians.

Notes of the Day

Abjectly Apologetic.

Messrs. Rangachari and Ginwala as spokesmen of the Democratic Party in the Legislative Assembly have issued a statement justifying the Assembly's attitude on the Bill to protect the Princes. The statement fully answers the many allegations made against the Assembly by the official spokesmen—Sir William Vincent and Mr. Thompson (a former colleague of O'Dwyer), and ruthlessly exposes the high-handed character of the Viceroy's action. We agree with the signatories of the statement that there was no case made out for the high-handed use by the Viceroy of extraordinary powers reserved to him by the Government of India Act, since such powers were intended to meet a grave crisis. But we cannot sympathise with the abjectly apologetic vein these gentlemen have adopted in the face of official reactionaryism. If, as they say, "even those who have had faith in the reality of the reforms are now obliged to own"—better late than never—"that they have been too optimistic as to the extent and character of the reforms," the only honourable course left open to them is to show that they have profited from experience of the past two years, by refusing any longer to co-operate in the working of such Reforms. In order to do so, however, is not given to spineless politicians, whose professions and practices are as widely divergent as obscurantism and democratism. A fresh proof, if a proof were needed, of the mentality of these constitutional voteries is furnished by the suggestion which has been put forward for sending a deputation to England to explain to the people of England the exact circumstances which led to the rejection of the Bill by the Assembly and prevent its action being misinterpreted. The only honourable course for the members of the Legislative Assembly, after the insult put upon them by the Governor-General's action, is to resign.

Kemalists and Constantinople.

Since Thursday, a strong rumour has been going the rounds in Bombay that the Kemalists have at last occupied Constantinople and Eastern Thrace. Our office has been flooded with many enquiries from all sorts of persons, not excluding our vigilant friends, the C. I. D. We could not refer all our inquirers to the omniscient Director of Information, though in suitable cases, we have recommended that authority for the elucidation of the rumour. Upto the time of writing, we have no definite information regarding the news, either from Reuter or Paris. The Central Khilafat Committee has no information and is in communication with these centres—particularly [illegible] His Excellency Jalal-ud-din Arif [illegible] last message received from Rome [illegible] 27th instant, and it is difficult to [illegible] what developments have taken place since then. Reuter's telegrams, whatever as they are, have rendered the situation more obscure still. And it is too much to believe that General Harington, in view of the declared attitude of the British Government, would have permitted Mustafa Kemal's troops to proceed to Constantinople, without obstructing their passage. In any case, if the news were true, we should have heard about it ere now. The only possibility of peaceful restoration of Constantinople to its legitimate claimants is through a complete revision of the British Government's outlook on the Near East situation. Speculation only sets us wondering whether the Paris confabulations could have produced any sobering effect on the mentality of Lord Curzon, and thus compelled him and his Chief at Downing Street to face the reality. The situation is one of acute tension and the paucity of news gives rise to grave apprehensions.

Figments of Power.

In one of its articles criticizing the Georgian venture in the Near East and pleading for a just peace with Turkey, our morning contemporary wrote as follows: "The main object of Allied activity is to secure the freedom of the Straits. That freedom cannot be ensured by force. It can be ensured, taking long views, only by agreement with Turkey. And when we talk of Turkey, what do we mean? No man in his senses can mean the figments of power sitting on Allied bayonets in Constantinople who would perish in a night if those bayonets were withdrawn. The only effective power in Turkey is that represented by the Angora Government. It follows then that the freedom of the Straits can be ensured only by agreement with Mustapha Kemal Pasha." None can take exception to the present attitude of our contemporary on the Turkish question, not even to the relentless vendetta inter-alia against Mr. Winston Churchill, its pet aversion. It seems, however, that men sometimes blurt out the truth though they would stand aghast at its logical implications. We shall make our meaning clear. What makes our morning contemporary ridicule the pro-British Government at Constantinople as figments of power sitting on Allied bayonets? It is this that the people of Turkey, who really count are behind Angora and not Constantinople. Cannot one bring the same reasoning to bear on the Indian problem? Analogies do not carry us very far and we know that the conditions in India are not the same as in Turkey. For one thing while the Turks are engaged in a righteous war of arms, the Indian people have taken to non-violence. All the same one may verily describe Indian legislators, and Sir William Vincent has often told them as much, as figments of power sitting on the "steel-frame". An alien power loves to surround itself with such courtiers who will make their self-imposed task of exploitation easy, but their masters know what value to set on them. When during the fateful weeks at the close of the last year a powerful Government expressed its readiness to enter into negotiations, the negotiations were to be carried on with Mahatma Gandhi and not the figments of power. Our morning contemporary would rather see the article in question burnt by the common hangman than that we should thus lay bare the implications of its own words and so must Seeley also be turning in his grave at his exploitation by Mr. Andrews. The explanation of this curious situation lies in the fact that a careful observer of events will catch a store in the hinterland of his mind some golden grains of truth and will, when carried away by the afflatus, let them out in spite of himself.

Encouraging Intolerance.

A grim commentary on the Governor-General's high-handed action in flouting the authority of the Legislative Assembly in order to "protect" the Princes against the Press in British India is afforded by the Associated Press message which we published yesterday that "the "Baroda Samachar," a vernacular weekly published from Baroda has been suspended together with the press from which it is published and fined Rs. 500 for publishing the translation of an article headed "Autocracy in Baroda" that appeared in the "Bombay Chronicle" of the 26th August." The article in "The Chronicle," for reproduction in which our Baroda contemporary has been thus summarily dealt with, contained references to the action taken against the Editor of a Navsari paper for commenting on the knighthood conferred on the Dewan. It is such intolerance, as is betrayed in the high-handed action of the Baroda administration against the "Baroda Samachar," which is sought to be encouraged by the Protection to Princes' Bill!

The Brave Sikhs.

In spite of the attempts of bureaucratic officials to besmirch the fair name of the brave Sikhs, the public—both Non-Co-operators and Co-operators—have refused to be gulled by the official stories concerning the Guru-ka-Bagh incidents. To say nothing of the grateful tributes paid to the bravery and spirit of non-violence shown by the Akalis at Guru-ka-Bagh by national leaders, we are gratified to note that the sane elements among the Co-operators have equally recognised the splendid example of the Akalis and paid handsome tributes to the same. At the conference of Liberals at Pyrahad, Pandit Parameshwaranath Sapru, Chairman of the Reception Committee, said that "if even half the accounts that we had thought they (the Liberals) would be failing in their duty if they did not sympathise with the brave Sikhs in their suffering, and condemn in most emphatic terms the beatings and the tortures that were inflicted upon them by the police in the name of law and order. It was these Sikhs who were the backbone of all the fighting and who shed their blood abundantly and with unexampled bravery during the great war. They certainly deserved to be fairly treated for their immense services towards the Empire." It is a pity that Pandit Sapru did not go to the root of the evil and observe how the blame for the beatings and tortures ultimately rests at the doors of the Liberals, if only for their supine attitude towards the high-handedness of the bureaucracy. If in their excessive zeal to support the reforms, they had not forgotten their duty to their followers and had stood firm as a rock in their adhesion to liberal principles, they would have been spared the occasion to deplore excesses whether of the police or of the bureaucracy.

"Native" Again!

The leopard may change his spots or the Ethiopian his skin; but the Anglo-Indian—old style—will not change his angle of vision. This is borne in upon us by the use by one of our contemporaries of the term "native"—where "Indian" is intended and meant. Now this word "Native" is justly regarded among Indians as a downright insult, and there are Government orders and circulars current at present against the use of so contemptuous a term. Though the use of the term is becoming rare in official communications, the word still persists in the vocabulary of the European—and the Anglo-Indian (new style). Our Anglo-Indian contemporary prints the following: "The lecture was attended by the Agent to the Governor, Kathiawar, the Rajkumar, the leading gentry, and a large body of European as well as Native officers, specially of the Medical department." The true old prejudices die hard; but we are astonished that a newspaper which is an enthusiastic supporter of the Reforms Scheme should be guilty of the [illegible] which the language quoted indicates.

REVOLTS ALL OVER THE COUNTRY.

ATHENS OCCUPIED WITHOUT BLOODSHED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS)

LONDON, Sept. 28.

The following concludes the description of the Greek revolt by the representative of the Asociated Press of America in Athens:—

In the meantime, three hundred army officers visited the King and urged the formation of a military Cabinet, promising to fight the revolutionaries in defence of the King. At the same time demonstrations were being made in the streets of Athens where the citizens were acclaiming M. Venizelos. About a hundred officers formed a procession, stopped tramcars and compelled the occupants to cheer for the King. Shots were fired and some casualties occurred, including the former minister Sideris, who was wounded.

MESSAGE TO PRINCE PAUL.

Prince Paul, who was aboard the training ship "Aegean" when a part of the navy revolted, received a wireless message from the cruiser "Lemnos" asking the Prince to join the movement of national defence. The wireless operator replied: "Brothers, I salute you."

A further wireless from "Lemnos" asked the entire navy to adhere to the revolution. "Lemnos" arrived at Piraeus, stopping all ships en route and forcing the troops on board to join in the revolution.

Reports were then received that the troops with artillery were marching on Athens. The populace rose and surrounded the Palace and threatened to seize the person of the King.

At the window, however, appeared an emissary. He announced that Constantine had addicated.

A CORRECTION.

In the Reuter message from London, dated September 27, published yesterday, beginning, "A feeling of deep anxiety prevails at the delicate position in the Asiatic neutral zone," the sentence towards the middle of the message should read correctly as follows:—

"The large concentration of troops in the direction of Ismid is leading to the suspicion that the Kemalist invasion of the Chanak zone is only a feint calculated to draw off troops for the Turkish capital."

U. P. LIBERAL CONFERENCE.

RELEASE OF POLITICAL PRISONERS URGED.

(Associated Press.)
FYZABAD, Sept. 23.

The resolution on political situation in the province passed by the Provincial Conference, in addition to urging for the withdrawal of the Criminal Law Amendment Act asked for the release of all political prisoners, including 55 members of the Provincial Congress Committee who were arrested at Allahabad. The resolution also expressed the opinion that disabilities, legal or otherwise, under which persons convicted under Criminal Law Amendment Act, or for other political offences, were suffering or might suffer hereafter, should be removed.

Some important resolutions were passed by U. P. Liberal Conference urging, separation of Executive and Judicial functions. The conference also appointed a committee to frame a definite programme of constructive and nation building work to be carried out vigorously throughout the year by members of the Liberal Party. The attendance at the conference was larger than yesterday, about 180 delegates being present to-day including 3 ladies who were in Purdah.

LATER.

Several other resolutions were also passed at U. P. Liberal Conference, supporting the U. P. Districts Boards Bill and exhorting people to promote the growth of Swadeshi. The conference while disapproving the methods adopted by the Akalis to bring about the Gurdwara reforms, strongly condemned the brutal treatment meted out to unresisting and non-violent Akalis, and sympathised with them in their suffering. The Conference also rejoiced in the Turkish victory, and requested the Government of India to further impress His Majesty's Government the paramount importance of a just, generous and prompt settlement of the Turkish question by peaceful negotiations so as to satisfy Muslim feelings in the country. While welcoming the appointment of Inchcape Committee the Conference expressed the opinion that no scheme of retrenchment could be acceptable to the people of the country which did not propose to reduce substantially the growing military expenditure.

U. P. LIBERALS' PROGRA

PATHETIC FAITH IN REFOR

MR. GOKARAN NATH MISRA ADDRESS.

The following are extracts from the pr sidential address of Mr. Gokaran Na Misra at the 2nd U. P. Liberal Conferenc held at Fyzabad on Thursday:—

Ladies and gentlemen, at this time when the fate of the Reforms is hanging in the balance and very solemn asurances and declarations of policy are being threatened with withdrawal it is proper for me on behalf of the Liberals to give our conception of the future of the reforms as wide a publicity as possible. We desire the Reforms to evolve into complete self-government at the earliest possible moment. We cannot afford to wait for ten years or even a lesser period for the consideration of further grant of power and responsibility. Our country has progressed rapidly in the last three years and I maintain in spite of what may be said in interested quarters that our countrymen have proved to the fullest extent their capacity for self-government. The way our Legislative Assembly and the Provincial Councils have acted is proof of this. The country cannot rest satisfied with immeasurably slow stages of advance. The resolution passed at the All-India Liberal Federation held at Allahabad last year expressed our conception of the future of the Reforms. In any case there can be no going behind that resolution. At the next elections the new provincial Councils ought to be entrusted with full responsibility. Provincial autonomy must be conceded and a substantial measure of responsibility—should be introduced in the central government. The Departments dealing with the army, foreign policy, law and order might be reserved, the rest should be transferred in charge of ministers responsible to the central legislatures. We have at present three Indian members of the Executive Council of the Government of India and there cannot be much difficulty in putting these departments under Indian ministers. I make bold to say that our conception of the next advance is not extravagant. We can afford to wait another three years for the grant of full responsibiity in the central government. It is desirable for the interests of the Empire as well as for India that the British Governmentt should realise the full significance of our demand and accede to it at the opportune time. Unnecessary delay in coping with difficult situations often proves fatal to all parties concerned. There should be no procrastination and hesitation in doing the right thing at the right moment. Ireland stands a glaring object lesson before th Government. A few decade what has been given to I have proved sufficient Only a few years ago have been gladly ac people. Mrs. E. says: "Baby has had Glaxo for a year or so. She is full of life and has never been the slightest trouble. Your food has built her splendidly."

Does your Baby laugh like this?

Baby laughs because he is happy—he is happy because he is healthy—his good health is mainly the result of right feeding. That is why the Glaxo-fed baby is a laughing baby.

Glaxo is the solids of pure, rich milk, made so digestible by the Glaxo Process that Baby's delicate little stomach assimilates it easily. In Glaxo—prepared simply by adding hot, boiled water—Baby finds all the nourishment he needs. It is a complete food, entirely germ-free, attended by none of the risks of disease that make ordinary milk so dangerous.

If you would be the happy mother of an ever-laughing baby, give him

GEORGE MEREDITH,

REV. GRAY ON HIS LIFE & WORK.

On Monday evening the members of the Bombay Ladies Branch of the National Indian Association met at Kambatta Hall, where Miss V. Kambatta kindly acted as hostess for the occasion. Their object in meeting was to hear the Rev. R. M. Gray read an interesting and sympathetic presentation of George Meredith's life and work. In the course of his paper, Mr. Gray said:—

"The life at ease was never his. He had a long struggle with poverty, and a longer struggle for fame. From the beginning there were a few to praise. Charles Kingsley had the insight to perceive the genuine poetic quality of the poems which were his first published volume. George Eliot spoke enthusiastically of "Shagpat." And when the first long novel came out, "The Ordeal of Richard Feverel," the "Times" published a long, painstaking and appreciative review. Carlyle's comment on the same book was "This means to fame." But these were a few exceptional voices. He wrote from the first, and of set purpose, for the future. He was in advance of his age and with few murmurs paid the penalty. Pity is unpleased, and for pity no man ever had such scorn. The thing obvious to note and to note with admiration is that his long struggle and long waiting never soured his temper and made him bitter, or turned him out of his way. Nursing a grievance, or letting the injustice of others affect his own life would have seemed to him a shameful form of egotism. He was a faithful but very generous critic of other men's work, ready to welcome any younger writer who showed any promise of excellence. But Meredith had a severer ordeal to pass through than his long waiting for recognition. The man who was so chivalrous a champion of women, who in his novels shows such a perfect appreciation of what love can be in a man's life, was himself unhappy in marriage. When he was 21 he married a widow, a daughter of Love Peacock. On one occasion he said "No sun ever warmed my roof tree. The marriage was a blunder. She was nine years my senior. He never spoke of it and one would not wish to ask questions. But the marriage was unhappy, and release from it did not come until his wife died in 1860."

AS A STORY-TELLER.

Continuing Mr. Gray said:—First, though he seems to subordinate narrative to philosophy yet he is a splendid story-teller when he chooses. The wealth of thought in these novels does not keep them, if you have patience here and there, from being absorbingly interesting. There are pages of minute and subtle analysis of humorous and whimsical moralising. . . It is one of the defects of his writing that he stops round too often to discuss and to analyse, and to tell you what is going on in these people's minds and to point the moral. The parentheses are too many and too long. The story drags. You might imagine that the characters therefore cannot be real men and women. But they are much more real than the characters in all but a few of the greatest novels in literature. These people are men and women like ourselves whose motives and actions we can recognise and sympathise with. They are sometimes made to talk with tiresome brilliance. Some of them are unusual people with unusual combination of qualities; but they are real people not stuffed figures, they act as men and women do in real life. You come to feel about them almost as if they were friends. And the reason is that they were so real to their creator. . . You will not find these stories always easy to read. Meredith often is shockingly and irritatingly obscure. Many a sentence of his prose I find it hopeless, life being short, to try to unravel. And much of his poetry, fascinating though somehow it is, you can only wildly guess at the meaning of. But I ask you not to be too much discouraged by that. Persevere even if, especially at first, there is a good deal which you have to skip. There is much which is quite simple, and if you begin with the easier books you will not find the difficulties of the others so formidable. The end is worth much perseverance."

Mr. Gray ended the lecture which his audience had listened to with much interest, and read Barrie's idyll, "George Meredith Joining the Immortals," to them.

Miss Bhanji thanked him on behalf of his hearers for his delightful lecture. She also thanked their hostess Miss Kambatta for her kind hospitality.

Miss Shireen Cursetjee seconded the vote of thanks. Miss Curstjee is one of the pioneers of the Ladies Branch of the National Indian Association. She told its members how in the early days it had often been her task to translate the English lecturer to the Indian listeners. However, Indian education had taken vast strides in the last thirty years. Many of the ladies present not only spoke, read and wrote English fluently, but were graduates.

GOKHALE EDUCATION SOCIETY CENTRE AT BORDI.

The Secretary of the G. E. Society writes:—"The necessity of cottage industries for those cultivators who have not got work for all the twelve months of the year is now admitted by every body. The Society began with Handloom Weaving as one of the most useful of such cottage industries, and the experience of the past four years has more than justified its expectations. At present the Handloom School at Bordi has got about ten looms. The boys of the High School there take full advantage of it. Besides many of the villagers and outsiders even from distant places have profited themselves by the institution and have started independent work. The school has thus passed the stage of experiment, and it is time that it is put on more permanent and systematic basis.

AN APPEAL.

We, therefore, propose to construct a well-equipped building sufficiently large to provide for the accommodation of nearly 50 pupils at a time. About 25 looms will have to be set up, and a semi-permanent shed will have to be constructed. All this along with other necessary expenses will require nearly Rs. 5,000 more. This is not a big sum and in these days of a general awakening among the people to revive cottage industries, it will not be difficult to collect this amount. The Society requests all sincerely interested in this most important problem to help us in getting these Rs. 5,000."
